FACULTY.

J. E. King,

SUPERINTENDENT CITY SCHOOLS.

HE subject of this sketch was born at Newbury, Vermont, October 18, 1860, of intellectual parentage, his father being President of an Eastern school and his mother a teacher for 35 years. From such an atmosphere he acquired higher ideals of Physical, Mental and Moral Culture than any school alone can give. Moving to Iowa, he attended the Corydon, Iowa schools. After his father's death he went east, where he completed his education at Lawrence, Massachusetts High School. Newbury Seminary and Massachusetts Normal School.

When applying for his first principalship at Seymour, Iowa, he was confidentially informed that the Board felt favorably disposed toward electing him, except that they desired a married man. That no such obstacle was allowed to stand in the way was shown by the fact that after being married August 13, 1885, to Miss Lina Evans, they set up housekeeping soon after at Seymour. After two years there and four years at Lineville, Iowa, he was Superintendent of Schools at Moulton, for seven years. In 1896 he took charge of the city schools of Centerville, Iowa, a city of 7000 people, continuing as Superintendent there for seven and one-half years, and coming from that place to Ames in January, 1905, attracted by the superior advantages afforded by Iowa State College. He was President of S. E. Teachers' Association, and has been twice elected member of the Educational Council of the State Teachers' Association.

His earnest wish is that the influence of the

 AMES HIGH SCHOOL ***

upon the lives of all its pupils shall always stand for

 ACHIEVEMENT, HAPPINESS, SUCCESS. **

Fig-Away.

Peg-a-Way.

If you think there is no meaning
In class mottoes of today,
Just you visit the Ames High School—
See the '08's Peg-a-Way.

If a Freshman or a Sophomore
Sitting near us gets too gay,
The example we do set them—
Never laugh but Peg-a-Way.

If a gay and festive Senior
Throws a note or wad in play,
We Jagoos take no notice,
Keep at work and Peg-a-Way.

After many years have passed by,
And our locks are turning gray;
In Ames still they'll tell the story—
How the '08's Pegged-a-Way.

Debating Club.

The Dissenters' Debating Club.

THE debating club was first organized January 12, 1901, and is re-organized at the beginning of the second semester of each year. Its members are boys from the Junior and Senior classes. The Club at present has twenty members.

The object of the club is the mental improvement of all who are connected with it, by discussing questions of current interest. It affords its members the opportunity for improving themselves in public speaking and in parliamentary practice. The discussions include the most important questions of the past, the present, and the future. No problem is so intricate but that it may be settled here. Railroad rates, the Japanese problem and the Negro question may puzzle congress for months, but the Dissenters decide them in one evening. Members of Congress might learn from this club how to settle questions with dispatch, and if they should come to Ames for observations, they might discover among the Dissenters some future senator, or perhaps, a president.

SCHEDULE.

- Sept. 22 at Ames—

signing contract with us for this date.)
Oct. 6 at Des Moines—

Oct. 13 at Boone—
A. H. S. 16, Boone 0.
Oct. 20 at Nevada—

Oct. 27 at Ames—

A. H. S. 6, Eagle Grove 6.

It takes some grit for a team to be willing to arrange for and tackle such a schedule as this. We believe it will be conceded that no other High School in the state played such a difficult series of games. To play such a schedule with the loss of but a single game and that on foreign territory, early in the season, before Ames High had its line-up fully determined, is certainly a record-breaker for our school. The season was a successful one from every standpoint, financially and otherwise, and the sportsmanlike manner with which our boys treated all opposing teams was especially creditable.

From the start the fellows came out with enthusiasm and they showed "the Ames spirit" throughout the entire season. Up to the game with West High nothing but straight football was attempted, but after that game every effort was made to study and take advantage of the possibilities of the new rules, and long before the end of the season it was evident to all that Ames High could play up-to-date football. It was quite frequently stated among football men that none of the State High Schools showed a better knowledge of the new rules or executed them to better advantage, several times in a single game they handled with wonderful speed and accurate skill the difficult forward-pass. The fake-kick was also repeatedly and suddenly changed into a successful quarter back run netting 20 to 30 yards gain in such a manner as to completely bewilder their opponents.

But for its single defeat by West High, Ames High would have had as good right as any team to the championship of the state; for Ida Grove defeated West High and East High defeated Ida Grove, while the strong East High team was gloriously defeated by the Ames High in a game in which East High was clearly outplayed and never had a chance to score against the stone-wall defense put up by the Ames line. East High's team was obliged to defend its own goal which, by the way, they did desperately until near the close of the game when Ames' invincible attack forced the well-earned score.

Dubuque High School is by many conceded the championship as they defeated West High and were not themselves defeated during the season. Dubuque, however, did not meet Ida Grove, East High, or Ames. There can be no question but that Ames High School now stands with West High, East High, and Ida Grove in a tie for second place.

Speaking individually of the team one can say a number of good points for each:

Eldridge, at Center, from the first showed up well. In practice and in the game he was always steady, repeatedly outplaying a heavier opponent. His passes were always good, especially the long ones on punts.

Luithly, at guard, was very strong in the line and on defense. He was not in the game with West Des Moines or a different score would have been recorded as he thereafter greatly strengthened both our offense and defense.

Templeton, at guard, was somewhat at a disadvantage but played well, his speed helping greatly in interference. He never shirked and was always out for practice.

ROBERT RICKETTS

EMMETT SULLIVAN

ELMER GREENLEE

MAX HOOVER

Kelso at guard was best on defense. In offense he was rather slow in getting into the interference but he had the "spirit" and gave his best all the time. This was his first season.

Tilden, at guard, was at times exceptionally good. His size counted and on offense he was able to change with tackle and he carried the ball to advantage. His greatest fault was that he didn't stay with the team through the season.

Johnson at tackle was always consistent both in practice and in the game. His place in the line was a bad one for his opponents and after trying it they concluded to try somewhere else. He had been with the team only a few days before playing West Des Moines, and he developed rapidly thereafter.

Paxton, at end, repeatedly broke through and tackled the enemy for a loss. His offense was good and he always got down swiftly on punts. He carried the ball well.

Hoover, at end, was a hard man for the enemy to get round. He was a little slow to get down on punts but carried the ball well and could generally be counted on to make good gains.

Boyd, at half, was exceptionally good, a fast man, carrying the ball well and always getting into the interference. He was a heady player and starred in the Fort Dodge game.

McElyea, at half was the only man that unquestionably made the all-state High School team. He was always a star on both offense and defense. He was consistent in practice and his punting was especially good.

Howard, at quarter and half.— At quarter he was sometimes lacking as to what play should be used, but as a rule the team worked well under him. At half he was good both on offense and defense and carried the ball well, getting away repeatedly for long runs and making his share of the touch downs.

Greenlee, at full, was slow but steady. He hit the line low and hard and it had to give way for he would not be denied. His interference was also good.

Sullivan at tackle was always there at practice and

VIRGIL JOHNSON

LEW McELYEA

VAN BOYD

BUELL TILDEN

in the game. But one man in the season got the best of "Rusty" and he had to play the game of his life to do it.

Captain Ricketts was at all times the life of the team, whether at quarter, full, or half. Too bad he could not play all three places at once. His generalship was good and his individual playing was remarkably fine. A good punter, always in the interference, sure to gain with the ball, he was certainly one of the best all round players in the state.

To Mr. Cave (I. S. C.) our shrewd, energetic and versatile coach great credit is due for the record made by the team. He worked hard and faithfully and had the confidence of every man on the team and was an inspiration to them all the time.

That the school spirit helps is shown by the fact that for three years past, Ames High School has not been defeated on the home grounds either in football, baseball, or track.

Tennis.

Tennis made its first appearance as a branch of the Ames High School Athletics in the year of 1906. In the spring two fine courts were scraped and good permanent wire back-stops erected. Though it was a new field, many tried out for class teams.

The scores of class games were:

SINGLES.

Brown, '07; 0—0.

McKay, '09; 6—6.

DOUBLES.

Brown and Gardner, '07—6—1—6.

Williams and Hoot, '08—2—6—2.

DOUBLES. (FINALS.)

Brown and Gardner, '07—6—6—1.

McKay and Cave, '09—8—2—6.

The first conference games in doubles were between McKay and Cave for Ames, and Tenden Brothers for North Des Moines. Singles were contested between McKay for Ames, and Bradley for Des Moines, the latter school winning both singles and doubles, the games being very close, especially in the doubles in which a single point would have won for Ames repeatedly if scored at the right time. Later in the season the same teams met at Ames with the same result.

BASE- BALL.

Baseball.

The season of 1906 brought out one of the best base ball teams which ever represented the Ames High School. In eight games against some of the best teams in the state they were defeated but three times and two of these defeats were by the crack varsity team of I. S. C.

The team lined up as follows:

CATCHER—George Miller.

PITCHERS— } Clarence Yeomans.
 } Joe Berger.

SHORT STOP—Gay Simmons.

FIRST BASE—Roy Spratt.

SECOND BASE—Robt. Ricketts, (Capt.)

THIRD BASE—William Luithly.

CENTER FIELD—Irvin Meltzer.

SUBSTITUTES— } Percy Wygle.
 } Elmer Greenlee.

1906 Schedule:

BASKET BALL

Basketball.

THE Ames High School Basket Ball Team of the fall term of 1906 was one of the most successful teams that has been produced in this school. The girls were all enthusiastic, all had a lot of "Pep", a necessary qualification for a would-be victorious team.

At the beginning of the term the girls showed wisdom in electing for their captain, Mae Loving—she having the right kind of basket ball spirit.

Miss Vera Prime, well known both in town and at I. S. C., was the coach. She proved to be just the one needed to get the best work out of the girls. Three nights in every week you could see this little squad scrambling on the field for the ball, getting in the practice that won for them the name they have.

As a reward, those who played in at least two conference games are wearing black and gold sweaters.

The following schedule speaks for itself:

Sept. 15.—Nevada vs. Ames.

Ames 21; Nevada 6. At Ames.

Oct. 6.—I. S. C. vs. Ames.

Ames 16; I. S. C. 13. At college.

Oct. 13.—Ames vs. Nevada.

Ames 6; Nevada 4. At Nevada.

Oct. 20.—Boone vs. Ames.

Ames 6; Boone 4. At Ames.

Oct. 27.—Marshalltown vs. Ames.

Marshalltown 14; Ames 9. At Ames.

BASKETBALL GIRLS

A.H.S. Alumni.

Alumni Organization.

ABOUT 1885 there was an organization formed of Ames High School graduates; but there being but few they became scattered. In 1892 a new effort was made and officers were elected as follows: President, Bernice Sheldon, '85; Secretary, Cena Thayer, '86; Treasurer, Mrs. Henry Wilson, '81. Strengthened by the growth of years, in 1905 the classes of 1903 and 1904 determined to reorganize and gave an enthusiastic reunion and banquet to the class of '05 at Adam's Hall. The officers elected that year were Bryce Hutchison, '04, President; Leola Talbott, '02, Vice President; Luella Robb, '02, Secretary; and Floyd Williams, '03, Treasurer. In 1906 a reception to the large class of 38 members was given at the residence of M. A. Manning. The present officers are President, Mabel Campbell, '01; Vice President, Mrs. Rose Bradley, '01; Secretary, Louis

Doggett, '05; Treasurer, Thomas McCall, '05. The total number of graduates to date is 241. To this will be added a class of about thirty the present year, 1907. It is remarkable how large a number have continued their education in the higher institutions of learning, 15 of class of 1905 and 22 of the last class, 1906, being now in college while 10 of these classes are teaching. Mrs. Susie Daniels Perkins, '83, had the pleasure of seeing two daughters graduate in 1905, and Mrs. Clara West Manning, '85, has a son who graduated in 1906. These are the only instances where parent and child both belong to the Alumni. May it always be the spirit of this organization and of its individual members to jealously guard the good name of A. H. S. and to encourage the undergraduates of our city to press forward till they too are enrolled as members of Ames High School Alumni.

CLASS FLOWER:

The Red Rose.

CLASS COLORS:

Red and White.

MOTTO:

"We have finished only to begin."

Barrett In Mind

That this is the first copy of the Meteor.

That you all need a little class spirit.

That no other school can boast of such pretty girls.

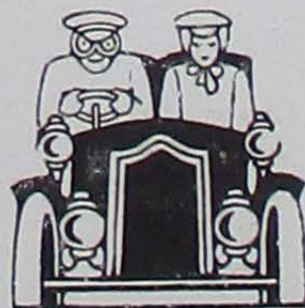

That our athletes are the best in the Hawkeye State.

That we have the best High School in Iowa.

That William Macklin is the youngest boy and Niva Nichols the youngest girl in the class.

That the Circero class is the smallest class in High School.

That we have a new heating plant in the school now.

Facts About Iagos.

The Iagoos are ruled by a "King". Last year we also had a "Boss" over us.

We are never completely broke as we always have "Nichols", and besides we have recently acquired a precious "Ruby".

Although our colors are dull, "Gray" and "Brown" are often very showy.

Our tribe has many sweet, but only one "Loving" girl.

Although strange, many of our fairest maidens like to walk with a "Tallman".

Some time ago we lost our class flower, the "Lily," but recently a "Rose" was chosen.

As the Iagoos have many "bells" and one "Clapper", we expect to be heard in the future.

Class Room Squibs.

MAY LOVING:—Isn't there something funny about May (meaning auxiliary may)?

TEACHER:—Yes, May is always queer.

STUDENT:—May I have the looking glass which you took away from me today?

MISS STROPE:—No, you look all right to me without it.

WHARTON, IN DUTCH:—Give the word for twenty-three.

STUDENT:—Skiddoo.

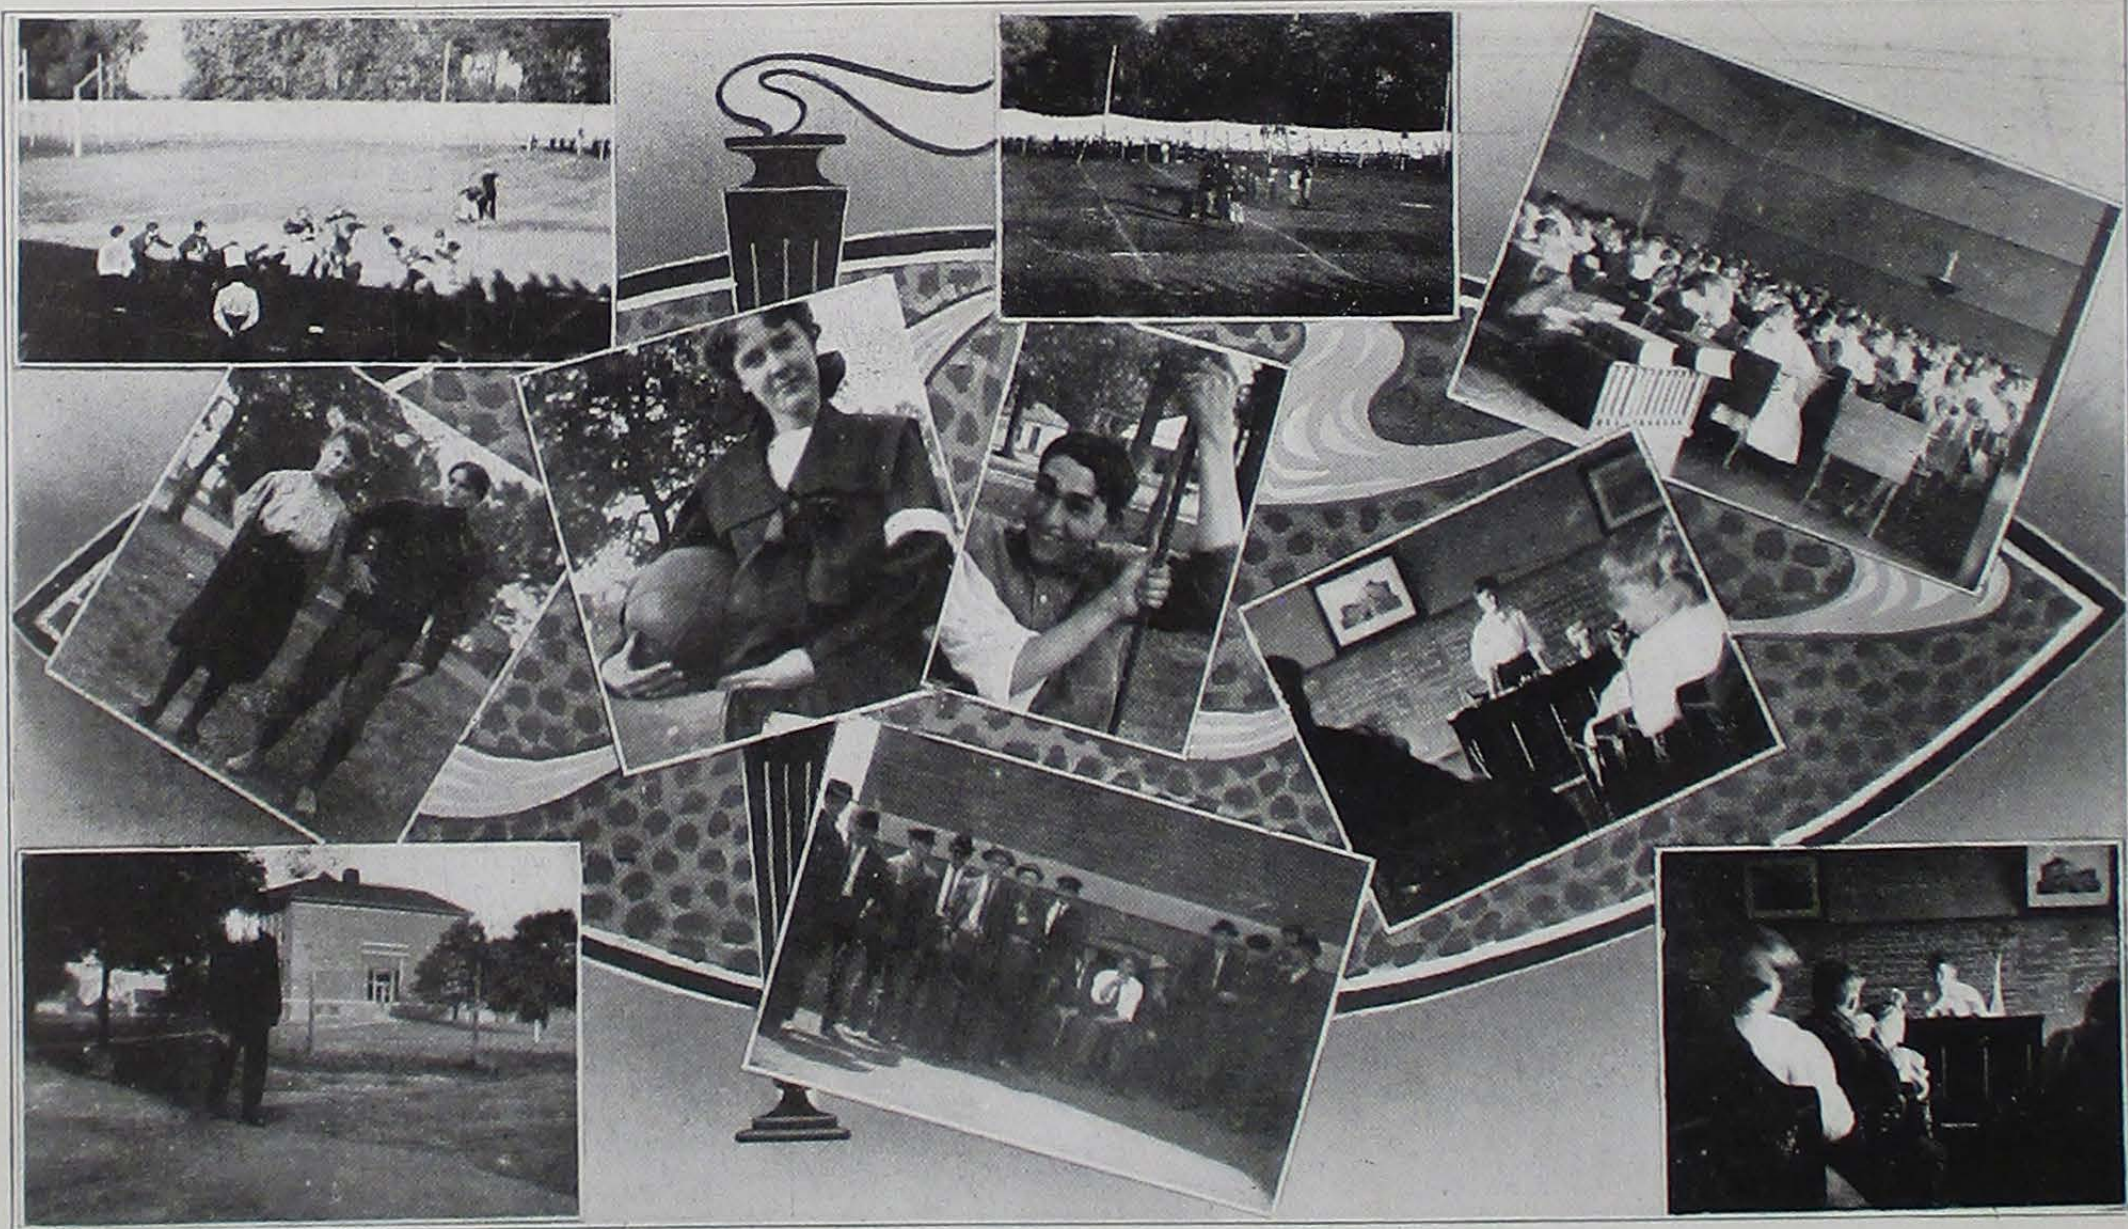

MISS GUSTAFSON:—Define a circle.

CARRIE:—A circle is a figure bounded by a straight line.

WHARTON, IN DUTCH:—What is a good man?

BRILLIANT PUPIL:—An exception.

Our Corps.

Our best one's name is Schreiner,
Then Scott and Fedson too;
And they're an awful learned set
And have just lots to do.

Our Mathematic teacher,
To her, look up, you see,
And she will smile down at you
When you prove your Q. E. D.

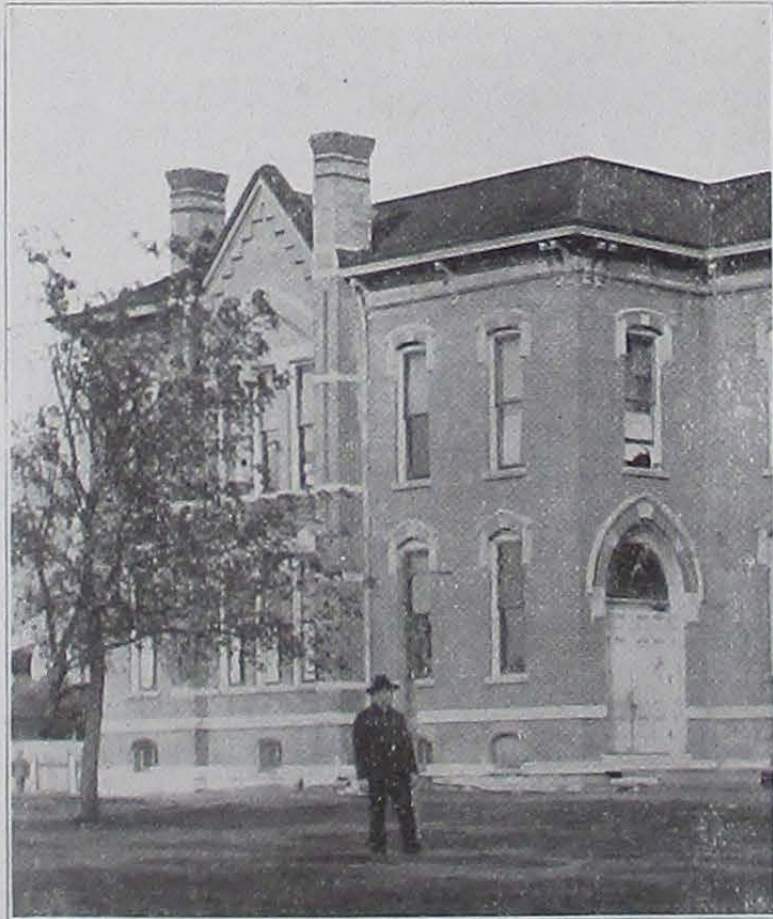

Miss Boyd's the one with solemn looks
And sore your heart is tried,
When, with her pencil on her lips,
She tells you, "You've not tried."

Miss Terrill comes from I. S. C.
With recommendations strong,
And has a class in History,
Almost the whole day long.

Next in line comes Wharton,
Our teacher of the Dutch;
And when your lessons are minus
He gets you in his clutch.

Last, but not least, is Whitaker,
The fairest of the corps,
And when you're good in English Lit.
You love her more and more.

Our Friend.

At half past eight in the morning,
When the birds fill the tree-tops with joys,
Mr. Shannon is ringing the school bell;
He is the friend of the boys.

For he always speaks to the scholars,
And a smile at them always hurls,
A pleasant smile from a jolly face,
Will always make friends with the girls.

Mr. Shannon is always faithful,
And busy as a big bumble bee,
He's continually aiding the teachers;
He's the friend of the faculty.

"A fool is a man who is idle"
Is Mr. Shannon's good rule,
He's so kind, so good and so helpful;
That he is the friend of the school. Lyle Clapper.

A Bit of Ancient History.

FROM "MANUAL OF INFORMATION".

IN the spring of 1870 a call for a special vote of the electors of Washington township, county of Story, state of Iowa, was made for the purpose of hearing the petition of the school district, known as sub-district No. 4, to become the Independent District of Ames. The petition was granted according to law, and May 2, 1870, the electors of Ames elected a board of "trustees", and on May 7, the result of the election of May 2, was announced, and the following citizens qualified and organized as the first board of the Independent District of Ames: viz: G. G. Tilden and Isaac Black for three years' term; H. F. Kingsbury and T. Weld for two years; William West and H. R. Bradwell for one year. On organization H. F. Kingsbury was elected president; J. H. Miller was elected treasurer; N. A. Rainbolt was elected secretary.

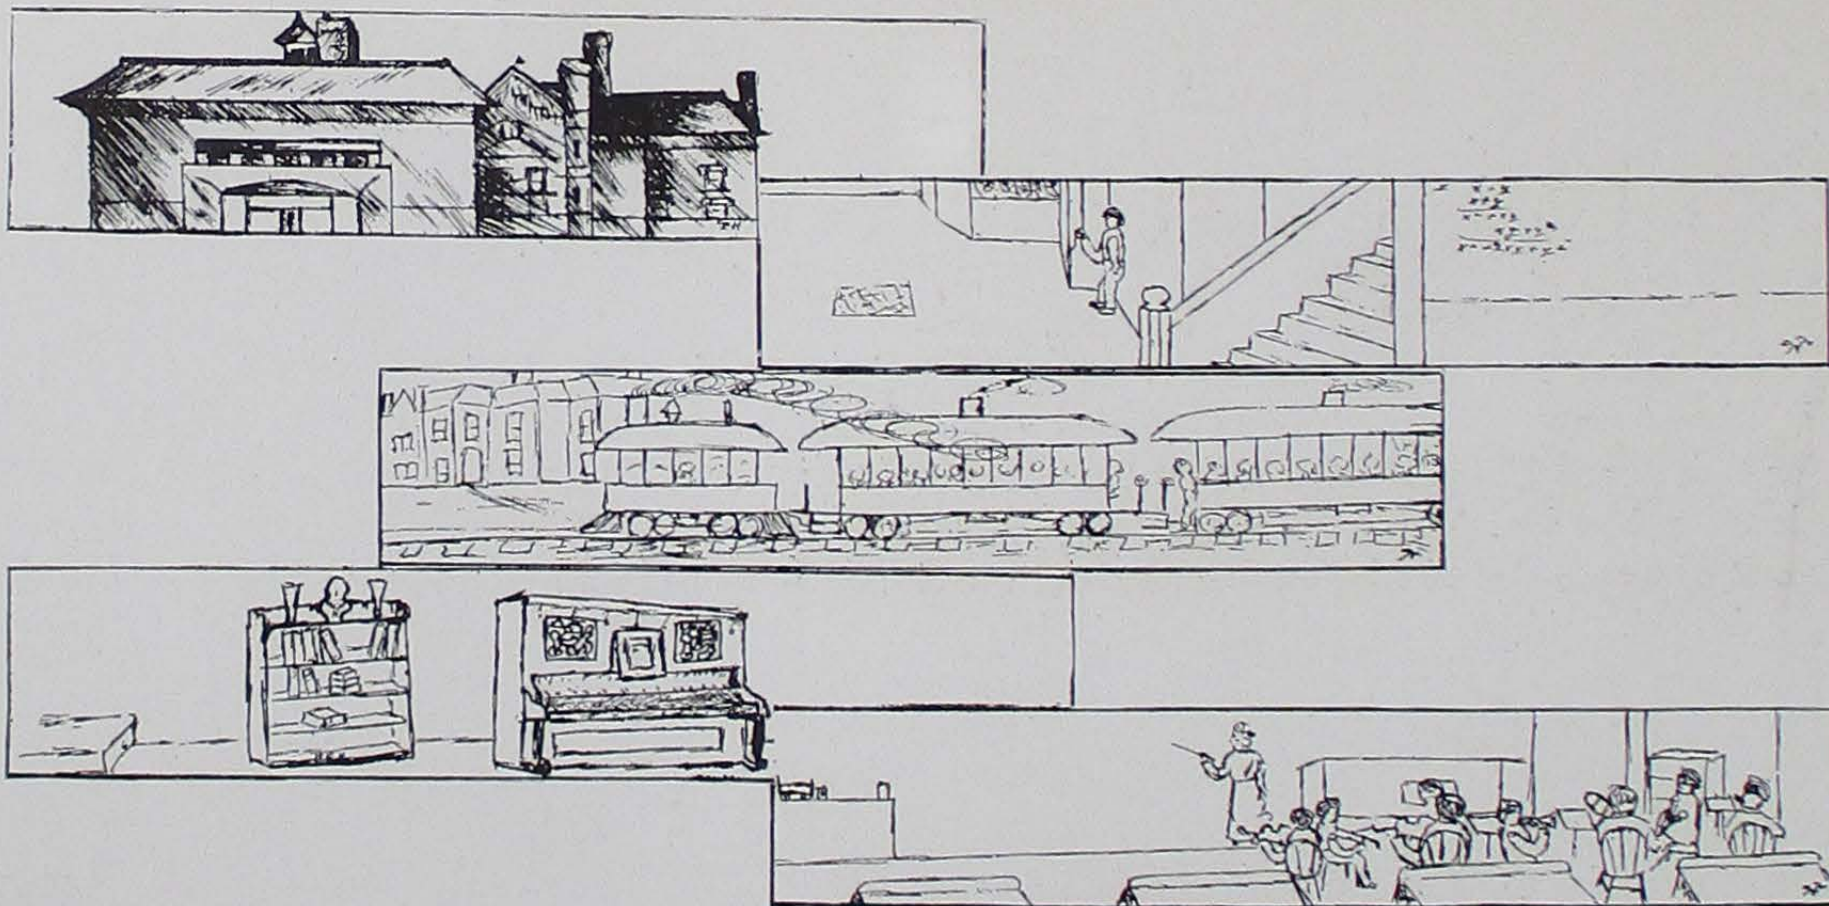

Mr. Christman was elected, October 14, 1870, "to teach the upper department of our school at a salary not to exceed $50 per month". Miss Julia Tilden was chosen for the lower department at $35 per month.

March 11, 1871, the district of Ames assumed a debt of $2,700. This debt was Ames' share of the debt of Washington township, for school purposes. The next bonded indebtedness was voted June 10, 1875; purpose, to build a new school house. At the regular annual election in March, 1880, the board submitted a request to issue bonds for the purpose of building a new school house. Ten thousand dollars was asked. The vote stood 148 in favor and 28 against. This debt was contracted and the present school house was built.

The following educators have had charge of the Ames City Schools during the past twenty seven years:

A Perfect Eye

is a perfect circle. A defective eye either under or over developed is an imperfect circle. It often happens a student is considered slow from defective vision. These defects can be remedied by correctly fitted lenses. Great care should be used in their selection; a misfit is worse than none at all. I make a specialty of this line of work and guarantee a perfect correction in every case.
